

DIRK BOGARDE

- By Myself

Birmingham Readers & Writers Festival is proud to open its tenth anniversary celebrations with a performance by one of the century's most celebrated actors. Star of such acclaimed films as The Servant and Death in Venice, Bogarde turned his talents to writing in the 'seventies and he now has six volumes of autobiography and four novels to his credit. Tonight is your chance to spend time with Dirk, sharing his memories and listening to him read from his work, including extracts from the latest instalment of his life-story, A Short Walk from Harrods. There will be the opportunity to put your questions to Dirk at the end of the reading.
